WE NOMINATE

Richard Whiting Colman, Jr., this fall entering upon his third decade as a Princetonian and one of the most successful coaches in the 96-year history of Princeton football. In a real sense the 50-year old Colman, with a penchant for expressing deeply held convictions in a deceptively mild manner, is the prototype of the modern-day college coach who is much more closely aligned with "the academics" than with the hackneyed caricatures of coaches concerned only with winning touchdowns, head-butting fullbacks and tackles, and inspirational locker-room oratory.

This week, as a 77-man Princeton squad launched twice-a-day practice sessions in the environs of Blairstown, N. J., Colman is looking forward to his ninth season as head coach and the challenge of defending the championship of the Ivy League with a relatively inexperienced team. Like his revered predecessor, the late Charles W. Caldwell, Jr., whom he succeeded on his 43rd birthday (Armistice Day, 1957), Colman is approaching his task in much the same way a scientist-teacher would map out, and then test, a laboratory program for a class consisting of a "mix" of individuals of widely varying talents.

The recipient in 1945 of a Master's Degree in Education from New York University and president of the Williams College Class of 1937 throughout its undergraduate cycle, Colman is one of the nation's few adherents of the football phenomenon known as the "modern single-wing." He "grew up with it" at Williams as a fullback and guard, helped Caldwell develop and polish it at both Williams and Princeton, and then added his own distinctive modifications. To his way of thinking, the single-wing's strength is its adaptability to the ever-fluctuating quality of the human resources at his command.

A top-notch football writer, who believes that Princeton's version of the single-wing "is one of the refreshing elements in Eastern football," came away from an interview with Colman with the understandable feeling that "versatility" is his most pronounced characteristic. A biographic run-down would show that Colman as a Williams undergraduate earned awards in six different sports and also managed the "little theatre," that he compiled a remarkable record as coach of both freshman and varsity lacrosse, that over the years his outside interests have ranged from music, camping and sailing to French cookery and politics.

A native of Manhattan but a graduate of the Montclair (N.J.) College High School, where he was president of the school's first graduating class, Colman has long been involved in Princeton community affairs and has shared his wife's interest in the continuing evolution of the Princeton International Relations Club. In 1961 he completed 6 years of service as an articulate and conscientious member of Borough Council, often wrestling with the problems and issues still confronting Borough Hall. Among his other areas of participation have been the Family Service Agency and the Borough's resuscitated Shade Trees Commission.

For his dedication and achievements as a teacher; for placing infinitely more stress upon the development of the individual student than upon the production of winning teams; for translating his affection for Princeton into meaningful public service; he is our nominee as

Mailbox Overflows Again

As they have with increasing frequency this summer, the unrelated but argumentative problems of fluoridating the water supply and merging the public schools have Princetonians fairly well heated. This week, as the temperature dipped to August lows unmatched in the past century, their thoughts remained warm on the two subjects, and letters flowed to TOWN TOPICS' Mailbox in unprecendented quantity.

With the total word-count nearing 7,000, it has not been possible to publish all of those received, nor — in most cases — to print every thought advanced by every correspondent. The number of letters is sufficient that they appear in two sections of this issue — some below and others beginning on Page 16.

While TOWN TOPICS normally endeavors to include up to 500 words of any letter on a topic falling within the framework of the Princeton community, it is not feasible in view of the current daily influx. Correspondents are urged to brevity as a major form of virtue in making known their thoughts in the controversial weeks ahead.

This week, Princetonians were thinking along these lines, some of which included rebuttal of points advanced last week by their neighbors:

Answers Examined.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

Last week in your "Question of the Week," you asked 15 local residents how they planned to vote in the school referendum on October 7. Twelve said they were in favor of merger, two were opposed, and one was undecided.

It is interesting to note how this same vote appears when those queried are separated by residence.

Township Residents: 10 for merger, 0 opposed.

Borough Residents: 2 for merger, 2 opposed, 1 undecided.

Assuming that such a small sample as 15 has any real significance, it would appear that the Township is in favor of merger, but in the Borough the issue is very much in doubt. Since, of course, the two municipalities vote in separate elections and both must vote in favor, for school consolidation to pass, it looks like a real toss-up on October 7.

As a suggestion, if this same question is asked again as the "Question of the Week" it might be more meaningful if you asked just the Township or Borough residents how they planned to vote. The results might be particularly interesting and we get closer to referendum time and residents of both municipalities become better informed on the details and ramifications of the proposed merger.

WILLIAM P. GLAS, JR
45 Hawthorne Avenue

Editor's Note: Last spring the survey made by Opinion Research and Gallup & Robinson, using a cross-section of 670 Princeton residents, showed these results: Borough — 62% in favor, 21% opposed, 17% undecided; Township — 84% in favor, 4% opposed, 12% undecided. TOWN TOPICS has never considered its Question of the Week an accurate sample of scientific poll-taking; it is merely a weekly report on what a baker's dozen Princeton area residents think on a given subject of community interest.

"Let's Keep an Open Mind."

To the Editor of Town Topics:

Mrs. Ruth Fox asks (Town Topics, August 26) how the Borough would benefit from the school merger. Her questions deserve an answer.

First and foremost, there are educational benefits. Unless a firm and viable relationship can be established between Borough and Township school systems, the Township will probably build its own high school. Without the Township students, the Borough's high school could not offer the variety of courses that it now does, nor maintain its present level of academic excellence.

At the junior high level, the Borough has only about 90 students in each of the seventh and eighth grades. This is too few to permit the best adaptation of the teaching program to the needs of individual students, or to permit enough of our teachers to be specialists in the subjects in which they are best qualified.

The Township can do these things already, but the Borough cannot. Together they can do the job better . . .

Second, there are financial considerations. If the Township leaves, the Borough would lose $460,000 of tuition receipts each year.

In that event, the cost of educating an individual Borough high school student would go up, and so would the Borough tax rate. On the other hand, under the present arrangement, the Borough would have to pay $30,000 if it sought to hire the additional teachers needed to give its junior high school the flexibility which the Township already has.

Fortunately, the Regionalization Law distributes costs to each municipality on a per pupil basis. In this way, neither community has to carry the financial burdens of the other. The school merger, under regionalization, does not change our taxes appreciably. But if the two systems were forced to separate, then everybody would lose. . . .

A good school system should be the concern of everyone. Let's keep an open mind about the issues, try to get the facts, and vote intelligently on October 7.

Service to the community

A colleague of ours tells this one. On Saturdays he sells dimes (10c each). Seems the neighborhood movie is next door. The kids stop lo before the show for dimes—for the vending machines in the theatre. A lot of our business is like this—service to the community. Glad to do it. Because we're conveniently located and open long hours, we're a handy place to pick up change or a bottle of aspirin. But a pharmacist's true service to his community is to be a quick, reliable source of the drugs and medications your physician prescribes. That's the real reason we're here. And we are always pleased to serve you.

Merger Is A Benefit.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

It seems to me that much more emoting than thinking has been done concerning the unification of the Borough and Township school systems. As a taxpayer in both municipalities and the father of two school-age children, I feel that I have a large stake in the October 7th voting concerning this merger.

I realize that I am not as well-informed as I might be, but neither do I think that the opponents of regionalization are well-informed. It seems that they are acting (or re-acting) with more feeling than reason. I have studied the report of the Friends of Public Education in Princeton. This committee, both boards of education and Dr. Chester Stroup and Dr. John McKenna are all in favor of this merger. These people have all made their decisions from long, careful study of the situation.

Recent legislation has made it possible for regionalized school systems to apportion costs on a per student basis, so the Borough would not be taxed out of proportion to the true costs; however, the likelihood of the Township's building its own high school within five years would mean a sharp increase in school taxes for both municipalities.

Under regionalization, the gifted and the slow-to-learn child will both have a better chance than under a divided system. Perhaps some badly-needed blue-collar training can also be given . . . not every child goes to college, even in Princeton. The Township, which has more children in the high school than any other municipality, would have a representation on the new combined school board.

Taxes will not suffer and there is a very probability that there will be real tax savings in the forseeable future. In short, it appears to me that the benefits of a united school system outweigh the few problems that may arise.

All Quiet In East Berlin.

Mr. Quickie interestingly reports in TOWN TOPICS (8-26-65) on his recent trip to East Berlin where life, although communistically dreary, does seem to have one consolation, for according to him, "There aren't any teenagers around."

One can't help but wonder just how this felicity is achieved!

Professional Opinion Sought.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

It seems that fluoridation has lost in Princeton. I hope to nip at its heels if fluoridation is really on the run, but I don't think it is.

Fluoridation has been postponed in Princeton because there was a large public objection. It was a political decision.

Those in charge have decided that it is not expedient to have fluoridation now, with all this fuss. I am happy that they have decided so, but I have the uneasy feeling that fluoridation will be back again.

As it stands now, those in favor of fluoridation can stand up and groan that all the "nuts" have again frustrated a glorious step forward in medical history, and those in charge will say "Yes, but what could we do. It's too big a 'political' chance" and so on.

It sounds like the classic story of the pioneer ahead of his times balked by the inertia of ignorance and superstition. This gives strength to the fluoridationists. The point is that fluoridation has not been defeated on its own terms.

The fluoridation argument has been all over the pages of this paper for the past month, but not one single medical professional has written to prove fluoridation harmless. Where are they? All the doctors and dentists and health boards in the whole area are wild about fluoridation — that's what we've been told. I want to see one of them try and prove fluoridation is harmless. I think he will fail.

If he fails, then we have to assume that fluoridation is not harmless, and there should be no more fluoridation controversy in this town.

WASHINGTON ROAD CLOSED: HERE'S DETOUR: From Tuesday, Sept. 7 until Friday, Sept. 17, part of Washington Road will be closed while the University builds a steam tunnel to its new astro-physics complex next to Palmer Stadium. Police will direct traffic for a day or two until drivers get used to the idea. Details in box, this page.

Washington Road Detour

Cars going south (from Nassau) on Washington Road will turn left at Prospect then right at FitzRandolph. Both streets will be one-way with no parking. At Western Way, cars will turn right and proceed to Caldwell Lane at Palmer Stadium, then left onto Faculty, thence to the Faculty - Washington intersection near the Lake Carnegie bridge.

Cars going north (from U.S. 1) may turn right on Faculty, then to Caldwell, then right onto Western Way, to Broadmead, where they will turn left to reach Nassau. Broadmead and Princeton Avenue will be one way north between Western Way and Nassau.

An alternate route, north or southbound, lies along Alexander Street. Faculty Road intersects Alexander and leads to Washington near the lake.

COMMITTEE SUGGESTED

To Study Pupil Allocation. The formation of a citizens committee to recommend plans for pupil allocation under merger was proposed Thursday at a meeting of Princeton residents and members of the Township Board of Education.

Mrs. Jess Epstein, a board member, suggested that a committee of Borough and Township residents might be appointed right after the merger referendum on October 7. The committee could begin immediately to study the question of "which children will go to which schools," and would have four months to prepare recommendations for the new regional board when it is elected in February.

Under merger, a new "regional" board composed of Borough and Township residents sitting together as a single body, would be elected at the regular school elections in February.

Mrs. Epstein pointed out that such a Citizens Committee could talk over pupil allocation with professional educators, hold public hearings to find out how parents feel on the subject, and make a careful study of all the buildings, buses and other facilities available to the merged district.

Thursday's meeting was part of a series sponsored by the John Witherspoon Citizens' Committee and directed by Mrs. Richard Edwards. It was held at the home of Mrs. A. O. Campbell, 180 John Street.

George Grace, president of the Township Board, told the parents who attended the meeting that all pupil-allocation plans provide for a wide dispersal of Negro children throughout the entire Princeton community, not just in one or two schools.

Other members of the Township Board added that the board was deeply committed to the principle of racial integration in the schools. Dr. Harvey Rothberg, Borough Board member who attended the meeting concurred.

pany to fluoridate our water supply?

What now, suddenly has made you reverse your decision of February 19, 1965, when you wrote the Boards of Health "It is the position of the Water Company that fluoridation is a health matter and that a decision as to whether or not the water supply should be fluoridated should come from the municipal boards of health."

This decision was given jointly by the Borough and Township Boards of Health in a letter of March 3, 1965 and your reply of March 26, 1965 stated, among other things, that "The company's engineers are now in the process of planning the purchase and installation of the proper equipment." This is noted as amplication of the historical review of fluoridation published by the Princeton Packet on July 28, 1965.

In your release of August 19, 1965, you state your desire to investigate legal implications. Will you kindly inform the Boards of Health and the citizens of Princeton why now in mid August 1965, you find it necessary to study the legal aspects when you have had 11 years to study the subject of fluoridation?

Your statement of August 19 for "Immediate Release" also states that you wish "to obtain a clearer indication that customers desire fluoridated water." Can you, the local Directors of the Water Company, even vaguely believe that a majority of the community is not in favor of fluoridation when the following representative organizations have urged you to do so: The Junior Chamber of Commerce, The Council of Community Services, The League of Women Voters, The P-T-A of both the Borough and Township, The Medical and Dental Staffs of the Princeton Hospital; not to mention the Township and Borough Boards of Health? I do not know how many individuals are represented by these organizations but I imagine that they represent a great majority of community residents.

Your latest release to the papers of August 19 seems to imply that you the Board of Directors have no intention ever to fluoridate the water supply of this community.

What then, may be done to get the Water Company to meet the community desires and the recommendations of the Boards of Health? Four alternatives seem to be available:

(1) To influence the Board of Directors by individual requests for fluoridation.

(2) To start fluoridation now and reply in court to any injunction or suit against the Water Company.

(3) To have the Municipalities take over the Water Company as has been considered in the past few years.

(4) To ask for the resignation of the local Board of Directors of the Water Company.

J. LEONARD MOORE, M. D.

Dentist Urges Fluoridation.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

When we talk about the fluoridation of a public water supply, we are talking about adjusting the fluoride content to 1 part of fluoride to every 1,000,000 parts of water. At this level, fluoride is capable of reducing dental decay by at least 60%. At this level, it will not interfere with cooking systems, it will not build up in the soft tissues and organs. It will not cause diseases of the teeth; it will not poison rats or roaches or humans; it will not damage the kidneys; it will not cause cataracts, it will not cause spinal deformities, it will not damage the health of any individual in any manner whatsoever.

The unquestioned safety of fluoridation has been proven and approven by studies on young and old, healthy and sick humans and animals over the past 30 years. The American Medical Association has repeatedly gone on record as approving the fluoridation of community water supplies after carefully evaluating all of the scientific literature available on the subject.

Currently there are more than 44 million people in the United States who receive their water from supplies where fluoridation is controlled, and an additional 7.2 million who drink naturally fluoridated water. In the next two weeks the city of New York will fluoridate its water supply, thus adding another 10 million people to the already staggering total receiving benefits of fluoridation without suffering any of the drastic ills proclaimed by the false prophets of anti-fluoridation.

In nearby Trenton, where since 1,000,000 people have been drinking fluoridated water for more than a year, not a single case of these attributed to fluoridation has been discovered.

In a recent action of the

"THE PLACE REALLY WENT WILD." The place was San Francisco and the time is September 2, 1945 — V-J day 20 years ago and the end of World War II. Earl Smith recalls walking in the streets and joining in the "hootin' and the hollerin'", happy in the knowledge that he would be going home soon. (Staff Photo)

Question of the Week

Question: Thursday marks the 20th anniversary of V-J Day and the end of World War II. Can you recall where you were at the time the fighting ended and what your emotions were?

Where asked: Palmer Square.

Charles MacPherson, 9 Maple Terrace, plumber: I was right here in Princeton. We were just waiting for the official announcement to come over the radio. It was about 5 or 6 o'clock. Everybody came out on Nassau Street — it seemed as if everyone went on an emotional binge. Everyone seemed to be so happy that hostilities had finally ended. We had a big party in our backyard . . . the whole neighborhood.

Mrs. Stephen Ream, Pine Knoll Drive, Lawrence Township, housewife: I was at the shore — Spring Lake — and I rode on a fire engine. I remember the sirens went off and they came around to the hotel, picked up all the kids, put them on the fire engine and we went blasting through town. As far as any emotions, it was pretty quiet at the time and I don't think I realized the full implications of what was happening.

Robert Dove, Newtown Square, Pa., controller for Mathematica, 1 Palmer Square: I was aboard a PT boat off Borneo. We broke out a bottle of contraband Schenley's Black Label which I had been carrying around for three or four years. It had managed to survive many, many inspections, and it sure tasted good. My thoughts at the time were pretty obvious: How soon can I get home?

Francis H. Davidson, 119 Parkside Drive, manager of three steel fabricating companies: I was in Pittsburgh. We were living in Virginia Manor and we collected all the kids and adults and had a parade. We all felt very glad, of course, that it was over.

Earl Smith, North Brunswick, owner of Smith Bookbinding Company, 3 Spring Street: I was in the Navy in San Francisco and the town went wild! I remember they closed all the liquor stores because they were being looted. I just walked around town and joined in the hootin' and the hollerin'. I felt very happy. I had enjoined for the duration of the war and I knew I would be going home soon.

Taylor Bard, Zephyr Hills, Fla., retired engineer: I was greatly pleased. I remember it very well. I hoped then it would be the end of all conflicts. I was in a little town called Pennington at the time. It was a quiet town but we whipped it up at home.

Mrs. William Brower, 628 Ewing Street, housewife: I was at home in New York City and had a friend or two over. We heard there was a lot of wildness going on in Times Square —people assaulting each other. We even heard some woman had gotten raped — and we thought what a ridiculous way to celebrate the end of aggression.

Vincent Aasen, Trenton, employee, IDA, Prospect Avenue: I was working for Luscombe Aircraft Company in West Trenton and everyone took off when the news came over the radio. We went into town and needless to say it was completely jammed with people. State and Broad was mobbed. People were coming and going in all directions. I was quite thrilled and very happy — extremely happy.

David Sparks, Stockton, editor: I was at an ocean resort enjoying myself. I had been discharged earlier that year, which in a way was my personal V-J Day. I recall that even though we were at a resort area where you would expect a lot of wild celebrating and drinking, there really wasn't any of the exultant, dancing-in-the-street type of reaction which followed V-E Day. I think the people knew the war was going to end, that it was just a matter of time and in that sense V-J Day was not as climatic as VE Day. I think I was terribly relieved but I felt a real twinge. It troubled me to know that the atom bomb had been the denouement. I still question that judgement. I couldn't help feeling that it would have been more desirable to have ended it some other way.

Mrs. Stanley Smoyer, 86 Olden Lane, housewife: Oh, yes. I can remember it quite well. I had just moved to Princeton. I didn't know anybody and I was very pregnant. It was a quiet summer. I don't remember much happening in Princeton except that everybody was quite happy. Of course I was happy to see it was over. My husband was in Washington during the war and his job was waiting for him, so we were anxious to get him home.

Flake Summers, 78 Stockton Street, janitor for Unitarian Church: I was working in a foundry in North Carolina and the whistles went off but we were working and we still worked. They didn't let us off. I was glad it was over.

Mrs. R. H. Benoeti, Morrisville, Pa., housewife: I was working in Washington D. C. At first, everyone was sort of subdued—they had this feeling of relief and joy. Then later as the day progressed everyone was very gay and very happy and there were parties going on all over the place.

Herbert Steel, Trenton, employee, Princeton Motors: I was in Virginia at a Navy base. That night we all celebrated by drinking beer and having fun at the PX. I was glad it was all over so I could go home.

THE YEAH, YEAH, YEAH BOYS ARE BACK: The Beatles are back with another picture. This one's called "Help!" and is at the Garden through Tuesday.

News Of The THEATRES

PLAYHOUSE AND PRINCE Cat Ballou (now showing) has got to be one of the funniest spoofs to come down the pike in a long while. The film has a field day ridiculing all the elements of the traditional western, from the swaggering gunslinger to the tin horn gambler.

Jane Fonda, a one-time school teacher, is given the name Cat Ballou when she turns against the law after her father is murdered. Lee Marvin gives superb performances as two separate gunslingers, one hired by unscrupulous town officials, and the other by Miss Fonda.

Tom Nardini, as a highly modernized Indian has a number of hilarious lines and Michael Callan and Dwayne Hickman add more humor as a pair of likeable but cowardly badmen. Imaginatively directed in color by Elliot Silverstein, "Cat" is calculated to produce laughs from just about everybody, and lots of them, too.

PLAYHOUSE AND PRINCE The Sons of Katie Elder (starts Sunday) is a somewhat dragged out horse opera, which takes a while to make its point, but when it finally does, comes with some rather fast action.

The indestructible John Wayne is joined by Dean Martin, Earl Holliman and Michael Anderson Jr., who represent Katie's sons. The brothers are out to get those responsible for their father's death, and for swindling Katie out of her land, and lead flys thicker than hornets after a hound dog before they are through.

The picture was shot in Mexico, and the color photography provides some beautiful settings. It won't win any awards, but it's a better than average western.

THE GARDEN

Help! (now through Tuesday) is the second film made by the Beatles. It has a lot of fast-paced humor, sight gags, and the usual quota of Beatle songs, but doesn't quite measure up to the sucessful "A Hard Day's Night."

Ringo Starr is pursued by a fanatical Eastern cult, which is trying to regain a sacrificial ring he is wearing. Ringo would just as soon give them the ring, but he can't get it off. The chase takes the Beatles down to the Bahamas, where they are kept on the run, but never miss a chance for a song.

RAINS TO STAR

Before Broadway Opening, Claude Rains has come out of retirement to star in Ugo Betti's play, "The Burnt Flower Bed," adapted by Henry Denker and retitled "So Much of Earth, So Much of Heaven." Mr. Rains will appear at New Hope's Playhouse in the adaptation before an October opening on Broadway.

Dates for "So Much of Heaven" in New Hope are next Monday through Saturday, September 18. The production will serve to ring down the curtain on the Playhouse's summer season.

"So Much of Earth . . ." tells the story of a retired political leader called upon to lead his country once again in time of national crisis. Leueen MacGrath will star with Mr. Rains.

Other members of the cast will be Larry Gates, remembered for his Lincoln Center performance in "Tartuffe;" Lester Rawlins, the only actor who has won three Obie Awards, and Joanna Miles, TV

COURREGES!

In Lingerie. It's a nightgown or a slip, depending on the a.m. or p.m. and it's pure Courreges. Edith, on Chambers Street, is showing a pale blue tricot, very short, with a high-hipped "H" look achieved by one-inch bands of white laid out on the blue. There are two bands that look like pocket flaps, and a white band around the hem and all you need is $9 and a pair of white boots.

Boots are part of the ensemble in a three-pieces for cold weather. It's a dress length white flannel gown with cozy little nosegays printed all over it, matching briefs and calf-height quilted boots to keep your bare feet off the dorm floor. Boots, $5; gown and briefs, $6.

Let's buddle around the warmth of these flannel night-clothes for a minute. Here's Edith's red flannel night shirt with lace around the bottom and the collar, and white embroidered flowers down the front.

The jump suit is white with a tumble of polka-dots in raspberry, turquoise and green in all sizes, a drop seat and a front zipper. A turquoise blue neck ruffle wards off strep throat.

That bunny sleeper has everything but ears and a fluffy tail. It's just like a soft, light thick blanket, except that it zips down the front and has a ribbed cuff. You expect powder blue, pink and yellow, but wait'll you see the wine red. $9, with $1.50 matching boots.

If you want a brushed nylon gown, you'll buy a pastel or white with flowers in pink, purple and olive embroidered at the U-yoke and around the collar. It has long sleeves, and comes in short or long, and there is a pajama like it, if that's your preference.

A brushed nylon robe in deep cherry or blue, has two vertical rows of braid down the front ($12), but we like that white wool shaving coat with the classic curve collar and hemline, held together only by a sash, and banded with red or blue against the white. Wool? Sure, but machine washable. $18.

Tailored girls want the classic fluffy robe in pastels or a lovely melon ($18.75) and the cuddly girls reach for the deeply piled orlon in a shade called azalea that looks more like raspberry to us, palest pink, turquoise or, in long style, in red and yellow as well. The lining is tricot.

If you're moving into a brand new dormitory, you've got to have a robe to equal it in style Edith shows you the quilted nylon in palest, palest apricot with burnt orange velvet collar, sleeve bands and buttons $23.

Here in the lingerie drawer, next to the Courreges, we find bright red petti-pants with silky black fringe like audacious black eyelashes, and a coral petti-slip (culotte) with coral lace. The panty girdle, petti-pants, bra, slip, half-slip and girdle are all blue-brown striations—like op art?

WAISTLINE READY?

Take it to Landau's. What we mean is, there are five double racks, ten in all, of skirts at Landau's, and if we miss one or two in our description, you'll understand. Of course, if you don't have a waist, and some girls just don't, Landau will be happy to supply you with an all-concealing jumper, and we didn't even count the jumper racks.

We'll begin there, however. Wool jumpers, from $11 to $18, are A-line or straight, many in junior length. Let's just take this deep olive flannel with its curving seams and round neckline, or the herringbone with its unusual square neck and the slightly lowered waist with two tab pockets. This one comes in a shorty length, by the way, and you may have it

That Old Bath Towel

"We do a tremendous business in bedspreads and drapes for college rooms," observed Dick Kates of Home Decor as he ran his hand along the miles of curtains hanging on the wall of his shop, "but when it comes to towels and blankets, mothers of college kids just send 'em off with the family's oldest towels and blankets . . . it's a funny thing."

It's a pity, too, because any college boy would love a giant bath "sheet" towel in camel color, maybe or Princeton black. And wool plaid blankets at $16.98 are not only good for boys or girls away at school, but are useful additions to the family blanket chest when students come home at vacation - time.

Blends of acrilan and wool are only $6.98 — buy a couple for your scholar and make him bring them home at Christmas for your holiday house-guests.

And throw in those old towels!

DANCER WINS AWARD
Scholarship for Studay. Phyllis Papa of Trenton, a leading dancer with the Princeton Regional Ballet, has won a dance scholarship to the new Harkness House for Ballet Arts in New York.

One of the original members of the Regional Ballet, Miss Papa was chosen for the first Junior Company in 1963 when she was 13. During the coming year, she will appear with the Regional Ballet as she continues her studies.

This summer, the young dancer was one of 70 at Jacob's Pillow chosen from dancers all over the country. With one other dancer, Miss Papa performed in a new modern ballet choreographed for the Jacob's Pillow Dance Festival by Myra Kinch.

in grey-blue, brown or tan, all soft with heather.

Those skirts! Well, here's a classic kilt in clan tartan and here's a knee-high in nubby tweed. Lots of the heathery skirts match exactly her heathery cardigans and slipovers that make a soft rainbow of the sweater shelves.

For example, here's one of those great skirts with no waistband and a lovely flat front. It's sea-green, gold, coral and blue heather and when you wear it with a matching V-neck cardigan, you'll be an A-line example of the Total Look Skirts range from about $8 to $15 at Landau's. That range includes a deep-pine wool hopsacking, again with no waistband, and gentle A-line. It's in navy or Loden, too.

Gabey and Lady van Heusen provide the shirts and blouses to wear, and Gabey's demure little floral prints with their flat little collars, will see you through your years of high marks in the classics. Dark colors in shirts, like cranberry, black, olive, Turtlenecks this year, in cotton or orlitan (that one's a muck! have a new companion. It's the Henley "pajama" neckline, shown at Landau's in avocado-navy, navy-blue, gold - green trim combinations.

Don't forget the dungarees. Landau has them this fall in olive and beige corduroy. If you can believe a corduroy dungaree, and there's that special color, olive and beige in standard dungaree style. Cut off, too, to show off your leg tan.

DORM DECOR
Bed, Bath and Window. Bates is a very choosy company about allowing special sales on its "Piping Rock" bedspread, but with an eye for the college - bound purchaser, Bates is now running a nice little sale, and you can collect from Home Decor, in the Princeton Shopping Center. Twin spread, $8.98 instead of $10.98, and two bucks is two bucks.

"Piping Rock" comes in a good, clear, college red, and that's our favorite, but more of best customers may have pink, powder blue, canary, mushroom, gold or any of the other 18 colors we can't even remember. In short, "Piping Rock" is for any student, man or woman. You'll recall that it's a strong, simple bedspread with minute vertical tucks to give it a stripe-on-stripe look

But maybe you like flowers?

FRAME BY Gallery 106 PRINCETON, N. J.
100 Nassau Street

CAT BALLOU: Jane Fonda is a runwoman in "Cat Ballou," now at the Playhouse and Prince.

Here's a quilted floral spread for a girl's room, $9.98, in a provincial print or one with daisies and roses. Washable cotton stripes, checks and plaids come in all the dark colors that wear so well in a dormitory, at $8.98 and $12.98, or $5.98 if you want Madras. How about Fieldcrest's "Campus Stripe II"? It's the sequel to "Campus Stripe I" of a few years back.

Younger members of the family, remaining at home, will settle for the pro football spread, and will probably snooze happily under the protective wing of the Eagles. The Browns are here, too, and the Packers — nobody left out.

To harmonize with the bedspreads, Home Decor suggests the homespun cotton curtains that look like burlap, in natural, rust, red, blue, olive, and on down the line.

And just or fun, take back with you some Jumbo floor cushions and a 3 x 6, 5 x 8, or 6 x 9 cotton shag rug Pastels or deeps.

ecision Disappoints

o the Editor of Town Topics:

I was very disappointed to ead about the decision of the rinceton Water Company to postpone fluoridation because f opposition in the community and legal involvements. I eel that fluoridation is in the ame category as vaccination and other proven health aids and should be in the water in Princeton and in every community.

Fluoridation probably should be passed through a referendum, but perhaps the Board of Health felt that it might not go through because of opposition in the community. It is odious to me that some families will not provide their children with fluoride pills or drops and yearly fluoride treatments advocated by our dentist. What a tragedy to grow up with fluorides available and not receive them!

My generation did not have fluoride in the water and many of us had countless dental work done because of it. I do hope that Princeton will fluoridate the water and give the children a chance to improve their teeth because of it.

nouncement that it had decided to postpone fluoridation indefinitely.

In its announcement, the company said it would like "a clearer indication that customers desire fluoridated water," and customers who want fluoridation are apparently responding to that wish.

At a directors meeting on August 19, the company decided to postpone fluoridation until it could find out whether boards of health in New Jersey have the legal power to order a company to fluoridate. In addition, several directors reported that they had received letters protesting fluoridation.

The directors' vote, TOWN TOPICS learned this week, was three to one, with two members absent and one abstaining. Robert Kean, company president, cast the single "yes" vote. "No" votes were cast by Fred M. Blaicher, B. Franklin Bunn and George Griffing. Henry S. Patterson, vice-president of the company and also mayor of the Borough, abstained. George Loos and Edgar Smith were absent.

Fred Klink, secretary-treasurer of the company, who has no vote, told the directors he thought they should go ahead with fluoridation as planned. Mr. Klink said this week that fluoridating equipment and the fluorine have been delivered in Princeton.

DAYS ARE NUMBERED

For Great Road Curve. The year-long process of re-aligning The Great Road and building a sewer along it will start in about two weeks.

Township Committee on Monday night removed the final obstacle to re-aligment by awarding $3,000 to "The Tenacre Foundation" as compensation for land the Township had to condemn in order to build the re-aligment.

The new road will divide "Tenacre" in two, and the institution, protecting this division, declined to grant the necessary easement to the Township, hence the condemnation.

With the easement question solved, the contractor can now start on the sewer. Robert Nami, awarded the bid some months ago for $236,263, has been awaiting the go-ahead signal that would come with the final "Tenacre" decision.

A Safer Road. Construction of the sewer will take about nine months, and actual work on the road re-alignment will not begin until the sewer has been finished and the earth has had a chance to settle. This means possibly a full year before the start of road construction.

The re-alignment will begin north of the entrance to Princeton Day Schools, continue west of Stuart Country Day and east of "Tenacre," (between the two institutions) and join the present Great Road behind the house of William Kiefer, a house well-known to motorists driving south and hoping to negotiate the sharp hill curve. There is always the possibility of continuing straight through Mr. Kiefer's living-room.

Cherry Hill is due for straightening, too. Louis Simonye, with his $34,302 bid, will begin soon to work on the sewer. Then the water company plans to put in lines; and then in the spring, the familiar little cork-screw section of Cherry Hill near "Balcort" will be pulled straight.

Hoping to widen The Great Road from Winfield Road north to Princeton Day Schools, Committee is asking $12,500 from the state to add to the $12,500 the state handed out last year. The project will cost about $45,000, and because last year's state contribution was short, Committee decided to delay the widening until the state added to the amount at hand.

Thomas Cook, Open Space counsel, informed Committee that the Federal government will pay 50% of the cost of the Harop land instead of the 30% originally promised. In fact, from now on, the Federal share of any open space acquisition will be half.

"If we can get 50% from the state and 50% from the Federal government for open space," Mr. Cook observed with a smile, "the actual cost to us will be very little."

CAR RUNS WILD

Driver Dead at the Wheel. An automobile with its driver apparently dead of a heart attack at the wheel ran out of control for almost 1000 feet Tuesday afternoon before plowing into a chain link fence and a tree at the corner of Hamilton Avenue and Chestnut Street.

According to police, John J. Golden, 69, 19 Chestnut Street, was driving south on Walnut Lane approaching the intersection of Houghton Road, when he evidently suffered the attack. His vehicle swerved out of control across the lawn of the Calvary Baptist Church, back on to Walnut Lane, and then on to the lawn in front of the Westminister Choir College.

It continued across the college's driveway, struck and completely uprooted a large tree, made a full circle on the lawn, and headed toward Hamilton Avenue. The car shot straight across the street, mounted the curb, planeed off one tree, struck a five-foot high fence surrounding the playground, and came to rest against a second tree.

Mr. Golden was pronounced dead at the scene by Dr. James J. Chandler. The entire front end of the car including the right tire and windshield were damaged. About 20 feet of the playground fence was ripped up.

Mr. Golden worked as a mason for the Matthews Construction Company. He was one of the founders of the First Aid and Rescue Squad, which transported him to Princeton Hospital after the accident. Funeral arrangements were incomplete as TOWN TOPICS went to press.

COURSES ANNOUNCED

New Emphasis at Adult School. For the first time in its history, the Princeton Adult School will offer this fall a group of courses devoted to the practical aspects of everyday life. (The complete curriculum will appear in TOWN TOPICS next week.)

Parents of infants and school-age children may sign up for "Family Life Education" discussion groups, in which mothers and fathers will talk about their experiences.

and share their problems with other parents under the guidance of a trained leader.

The course is designed to help parents understand how children develop, and how children's needs can be met at different stages of growth.

Three sections will be given: infancy to two years; two to five years and six to ten years. Parents must have children at the age level of the section in which they enroll. One parent may enroll for $10. If both parents sign up, for $15 a pair, parents may take two separate sections.

"Family Life Education" is being given in consultation with the Child Study Association of America and is an outgrowth of similar workshops held by the Family Service Agency of Princeton.

English or Office. People who want to improve job qualifications or continue an interrupted education may enroll in "English Fundamentals" or "English for the Foreign Born—I." "Fundamentals" is designed to help people improve written and oral communication.

"English for the Foreign Born—I" is a two - hour class for beginners; an intermediate class ("I") will be given for those with some foundation in English. Those who are interested should confer with the instructor at the Open House, to be held at the high school on September 23.

Three classes in office skills will be offered this fall: "Typing for Beginners," "Shorthand for Beginners" (Gregg system) and "Office Machines." The class in machines will offer introductory work with mimeographs, electric typewriters, National Cash Register banking machines, manual calculators, electric calculators, key punch, sorter and the 402 accounting machine.

EIGHT ARE FINED

In Borough Court. Eight Princeton area residents were fined Monday by Borough Magistrate Theodore T. Tams Jr.

Fined $15 each were Braxton C. Ellerbe, 46, 12 Lytle Street, for following too closely, and Marvin H. Carmen, 20, 46 Witton Street, for careless driving. Mr. Carmen's license was revoked for 15 days.

Fines of $12 were levied against Stacy M. Dratfield, 19, 81 Harris Road, passing through a flashing red light, and Samuel Federico, 27, 293 Hamilton Avenue, red light violation. For speeding, Lawrence R. Goodyear Jr., 29, Bridgepoint Road, Belle Mead, paid $19, and Meryle W. Brotherton, 46, Skillman, paid $30. Speeding also cost H. R. Tippett, Wertsville Road, Neshanic, $20, while a careless driving violation brought a fine of $15 to Samuel N. Goldman, Clarksville Road.

HUGHES ESCAPES INJURY After Forced Landing. Gov Richard J Hughes and his 10-year old son, John, both escaped injury Sunday, when the helicopter in which they were riding developed engine trouble and had to make a forced landing on a road near Wareto wn in Ocean County.

The craft was cruising at an altitude of about 700 feet when the motor suddenly quit. Samuel Payne, 28, 237 Washington Road, Penns Neck, pilot of the helicopter, said the craft descended like a parachute.

He explained that the copter's huge propeller, although not whirling, acted like a parachute to keep it from plummeting. The craft landed with a slight jolt, in the middle of the road, one of the only open spaces in the area.

Gov. Hughes said: "Sure I was scared. But the pilot made a beautiful landing considering there was no power." A passing motorist drove the Governor and his son to a state police station in Toms River, where he contacted his campaign car, and continued to a rally in Gloucester County.

MAN IS ELECTROCUTED As Ladder Hits Wires. John Pastierik, 54, 2143 Princeton Pike, Lawrence Township, was killed almost instantly Friday when a ladder he was moving fell on high tension lines on Route 69. He was the second person electrocuted in this area in two weeks, and the third this year.

Mr. Pastierik and a helper, Walter Daniels of Trenton, were painting the home of Mrs. J. F. Erickson. While attempting to move an aluminum ladder, Mr. Pastierik slipped and it fell against the wires. The resulting shock of 2400 volts knocked both men to the ground, but Mr. Daniels suffered only minor burns on his hands.

A passing motorist stopped and used mouth to mouth resuscitation in an attempt to revive Mr. Pastierik, but his efforts were in vain, as were those of state trooper John Caldaro and members of the Pennington First Aid Squad. Doctors at Mercer County Hospital worked over Mr. Pastierik for more than 30 minutes using a resuscitator and electric shock treatments, before pronouncing him dead.

Two weeks ago a concrete grinder short-circuited, killing another construction worker in the area. Earlier this year, a crane operator was also electrocuted when his crane hit high voltage wires on Route 69.

Dr. James Wei

SOCONY MAN NAMED To Be Visiting Professor. Dr. James Wei, 47 Broadripple Drive, a member of Socony Mobil's Central Research Division Laboratory in Hopewell Township, will serve on the staff of the California Institute of Technology for the fall term. Dr. Wei will be visiting associate professor of chemical engineering.

Dr. Wei will conduct a course on chemical kinetics, a field in which he has made contributions to the development of mathematical modeling for extracting accurate chemical reaction rate data from experimental results. During the 1962-63 academic year, Dr. Wei was visiting associate professor of chemical engineering at Princeton.

Born in 1930 in the Portuguese colony of Macao, Dr. Wei immigrated to the United States in 1949. He received his bachelor's degree from the Georgia Institute of Technology in 1952, and his doctor of science degree from M.I.T. in 1955. He has been with Socony since that time.

CYCLIST RAMS CAR DOOR On Prospect Avenue. When John C. Phillips, 60, 261 Varsity Avenue, Penns Neck, opened the front door of his parked car on Prospect Avenue Monday afternoon, he opened it into the path of an oncoming cyclist.

Frank Berger, 15, 227 Prospect, crashed into the door and was knocked to the pavement. A passing motorist took young

Person To Person

Cory S. Kammler

We were given an illustration of conditions under which workers must live under communistic dictatorship, and it is in appropriate reminder to us on Labor Day in this land of freedom. In December, 1960, when the electrical workers of Havana marched to protest reductions in living standards, Castro denounced them as traitors. A few days later Castro seized upon a power failure as an excuse to arrest several electrical workers, whom he said were suspected as saboteurs. Within another few days, on January 10, 1961, they were executed by Castro's firing squads, no doubt as examples to any others who might think of protesting . . . not for more money or shorter hours . . . but against lower standards! And he's the 'man' who promised better workers' conditions, as do not all tyrants, when 'trying to gain power' All will agree that nowhere on earth has man worked out a perfect government, but by comparison, do we not have the nearest to perfection man has yet come? Rather than argue with those who denounce our way and endorse theirs, would it not be sweet justice simply to get them a one way ticket behind their approved iron curtain? We join with you in thanking God for America. Kammler Buick - Pontiac Co., Route 206, opp Princeton Airport 921-2222.

Berger to his home where he complained of a pain in his right hand. No charges stemmed from the mishap which occurred near the intersection of Murray Place.

Victor Guerrido, 39, of Lambertville, and Rosalie M. Salamandra, 18, of Trenton, were involved in single car accidents this week in the Township.

Early Monday morning at 1:13, Mr. Guerrido's station wagon struck a large tree on Cherry Hill Road about a mile-and-a-half north of Route 206, damaging its entire front end. He complained of pains in his chest and right arm and required four sutures to close a laceration of his forehead.

Mr. Guerrido told police he was unfamiliar with the road. In their report, police noted that this particular area of Cherry Hill Road contains a bad "S" Curve and has been the scene of many previous accidents. There were no charges.

Miss Salamandra's car went into a skid Thursday on Quaker Bridge Road near Squatter's Grove. She refused medical aid, police said, and although her car flipped over she was apparently not injured.

Police quoted Miss Salamandra as saying she thinks she lost control when she turned off her car's wiper blades. Her car skidded to the left of the road, went into a field and flipped over on its roof. It was a total loss. In the process, a 50-foot square area of beans on the Updike Farm was damaged.

GIFT NAMES GERBER

Magistrate Is Donor. A gift of $50 has been presented to Princeton Hospital by Glen B. Miller Jr., Township magistrate, as a gesture of professional friendship for Louis R. Gerber, retired Township magistrate.

At Judge Miller's request, Mr. Gerber has occupied the magistrate's chair on several occasions when Judge Miller has been out of town. When the magistrate offered a recompense for these services, Mr. Gerber asked that Judge Miller give the money instead to Princeton Hospital.

REUNION ON SATURDAY

For PHS Class of 1959. The Italian-American Sportsmen's Club will be the scene on Saturday of the fifth reunion of the Princeton High School Class of 1959. It will begin at 7:30.

Admission is $6 per couple and $4 stag. Further information may be obtained from Arnold Skaar.

TARGET SHOOT SET

By Engine Co. No. 1. Princeton Engine Co. No. 1 will hold the Fire Department's annual target shoot on Labor Day at Squatter's Grove on Quaker Road.

Robert Davison is committee chairman. Prizes may be donated by calling Ralph Kleiber, 924-5074.

TWO JACKETS TAKEN

From Football Fan's Car. H. R. Herschberger of Yardley, Pa., reported to Borough police that two rain jackets valued at $20 were taken from the front seat of his car while he was watching the Engles-Giants football game here on Saturday. His car, which posted a sign that had not been locked, was parked at the Engineering Quadrangle yard off Prospect Avenue.

Thomas Kilis of West Trenton, a railway conductor, called police last week to report the theft of his black blazer jacket and a pair of slacks from the trainmen's room at the PRR station on University Place. He valued the clothes at $50.

Police said that a screen had been pried loose to gain entry. They added that approximately $1.50 in pennies were also taken from a cup.

Michael Goldstein, 16 Dickinson Street, a University student, told police on Monday that his entire wash had been stolen August 18 from the coin laundry at 12 Witherspoon Street. He valued his laundry, which in part contained six pair of trousers and nine shirts, at $150.

BOYCHOIR SCHOOL FULL

Capacity Enrollment Set. The Columbus Boychoir will begin its 26th year Sunday, September 12, with a capacity enrollment. Executive director Lauren D. Rhine reports that a few more students will be accepted into the sixth grade before the opening date.

Classes will begin the following Monday, September 13. The school's concert schedule for the coming year will take the boys from Canada to Texas, and will open in Wilmantic, Conn., on Sunday, October 10.

Borough Needs Merger.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

Mr Elwin E Smith confused school regionalization with municipal consolidation in his letter to Town Topics (Aug 26) He is right in thinking that municipal consolidation now would burden the Borough taxpayer unduly. He is wrong in his assumption that regionalization would provide equal burt

The Princeton Borough Board of Education and the Princeton Township Board of Education believe that regionalization of the school districts will provide improved education at fewer costs than would prevail should they separate. Professional school administrators in each district agree, as does the State Superintendent of Education

The only radical choice open to the Borough on October 7 is a "no" vote. Separation of the Township from the Borough would leave the Borough dependent on other sending districts if it maintains a comprehensive high school.

The other districts are indeed threatened with the problems Mr Smith fears. West-windsor, for instance, would have a population of 50,000 to 60,000 people if land now zoned there for residential purposes were filled

Mr. Smith mentioned inequities growing from the different size of the two districts. He overlooked in the Blue Book analysis of the fact that in the Township, under Regionalization Law, will pay most of the costs in a merged district The Borough will continue to pay only 20 per cent of the costs incurred in its excellent high school

In the opinion of the two Boards and their professional advisers, the only prudent defense for the Borough taxpayer lies in building this year a stable union between the Borough and the Township. We can conceive of no finer means of maintaining good schools at present tax rates. Any alternative will wreck our schools and provide a grievous and growing burden for our taxpayers.

ROBERT A LIVELY
29 University Place

Editor's Note Mr Lively is a member of the Borough Board of Education and feels, with many Borough residents, that its schools will be enriched through merger with the Township.

Merger Vehemently Opposed.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

I fully appreciate the opportunity to speak my piece (Town Topics, Aug 26) but may I say that the parrot-like, platitudinous editorial following my letter last week was not worthy of this paper. Answers without facts or reasons are techniques in the world

Is it possible for a community with the growth potential of the Township to expect us to believe that their school needs, their tore school taxes, have any place to go but up? Are we in the Borough supposed to be gullible enough to believe that with school merger we won't be expected to foot part of this continually increasing expense?

The Princeton Plan immediately becomes a mockery when Charlie Whiteskin can walk to his school right here in town while Charlie Brownskin (just around the corner) has to be bussed to a school a few miles away because they don't have enough of his kind to make their quota. Let nobody assume for one minute that Charlie Brownskin doesn't know why he is being bussed Why is Charlie Brownskin expected to go to a strange school in a community where he does not live, among children he does not know, at an age of anywhere from 5-14? Because he is a Negro!

The childlike faith in the Blue Book, shown by so many in past letters, is totally unwarranted Should the merger occur, the joint school board is under no obligation, being a newly formed body, to follow any predetermined plan . . .

As for a better and stronger curriculum, the Borough offers no proof if not a better education as the Township in K-8 It is the Borough which is instituting a stronger vocational course in school. It is the Borough which is willing to educate high school youngsters from other townships, no matter what their parents' educational backgrounds may be

One of our problems stems from the fact that both Borough and Township are named Princeton If, for instance, it were Queenston Township and Princeton Borough it might not be so easy to make the Borough feel guilty for being a separate entity It then might be perfectly logical that the newer one is a high school sending district to the older one

Conclusion I have yet to find reasons, not just pat answers but good, solid, justifiable reasons for a school merger with a sending district.

Dilley Report Separate.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

Princetonians interested in public education (and who isn't?) must not confuse the school merger issue (to be voted on October 7) with any of the issues that will be raised by the Dilley Report on Joint Operations of the Borough and Township, to be released soon. The following points must be kept in mind during the weeks before the October referendum

1. The proposed school regionalization (merger) is entirely separate from any consideration of joint operations in other areas (police, etc) or of political consolidation. Decisions on these other areas, for or against, can be taken later, there will not be another vote on the school merger.

2 The school merger will lead to better schools for both Borough and Township.

3. The school merger will not lead to any significant increase in Borough or Township taxes, whereas the maintenance of separate school systems would cause tax increases in both municipalities.

Points 2 and 3 are confirmed by the joint report of the two Boards of Education (the Blue Book). The Princeton Chamber of Commerce in a recent statement reaffirms these points. The merger is supported by the two School Boards, both Superintendents of Education, and both PTA's.

The Dilley Report will deserve careful consideration from Princeton citizens, but don't confuse non-educational aspects with the school merger. If you want better schools without tax increases, go to the polls on October 7 and vote YES on the school merger.

Ability to Choose Is Vital.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

Concerning the controversy over fluoridation of the public water supply, I think some additional aspects would be well considered. The advocation of fluoridation is made on the grounds of its statistically proven effectiveness in reducing dental cavities. That this is a desirable end is unquestionable — Who could possibly have any reason to oppose it? On this facet of the problem there is little to be disputed.

But although the idea of water fluoridation is no longer "new", it may be reasonably suggested that there exist ramifications of this process which are as yet not understood. Reports and accounts continue to come in, quietly, as to possible ill effects and very questionable results of these chemicals on the total body scheme.

The main point, however, is not that fluoridation at the moment is definitely this or that, but that since a reasonable opinion may be forwarded in favor of either side, that we must respect not only the rights of others to make their own decisions on this matter, but upheld the individual mandate by which each person is guaranteed the right of choice — whether we agree with him or not.

When the means for individual, private, control of drinking water and dental fluoridation are so readily available, does any group, majority or minority, have the right to impose their wishes on others to the point where their freedom of choice is violated — in a situation over which they can have no control? I think the answer to this is clearly no . . .

Fluoride through Pills.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

Upon my return from Europe I was sorry to learn that fluoridation of our water supply is still a threat.

A few years ago the citizens of Princeton made it clear that they did not want fluoride in their water supply. At the time I wondered why those in favor of fluoride treatment didn't take their children to the dentist and find out if a prescription for accurately dispensed fluoride pills was needed.

Why is this precise method of administering fluoride to children to be discarded in favor of an indiscriminate dosing of every one of all ages with an undetermined amount of fluoride through the water supply? Let me give an example: Johnnie drinks three glasses of fluoridated water per day.

William, a more active child, is so thirsty he drinks eight glasses of fluoridated water per day, and Mary, who prefers milk, makes do with only one glass of fluoridated water per day. Their average is four glasses of water per day — which is not what any one of them drink at all.

Will William have mottled teeth because he drinks a lot of fluoridated water? And what about our vegetable gardens after we sprinkle them for hours — will the vegetables take up the fluoride and overdose us with the chemical?

Accurately controlled dosage for children by means of prescribed pills is a much more desirable and effective way of controlling caries in childrens' teeth than fluoridation of our entire water supply.

BALLET SCHOOL OPENS

At 20 Nassau St. A new school of ballet, "Ballet Arts," with studios at 20 Nassau Street, has been opened under the direction of a former ballet-master of the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo, Roland Guerard. Classes will begin this month.

Mr. Guerard and his wife, Margot, are known here for their direction and choreography of ballets at McCarter Theatre in recent years. Ballet Arts will stress the training necessary for a professional level of achievement.

"We realize," Mr. Guerard said, "that not every child who takes ballet lessons is destined to become a ballerina; but this has to be the viewpoint, even

Astronaut Pete Conrad: Cessna 140 to Gemini 5

It's a long road from taking movies of Princeton and neighboring towns in a Cessna 140 airplane to completing an eight-day orbital space flight in Gemini 5, but Princeton University alumnus Lt. Comdr. Charles (Pete) Conrad Jr. has come all the way.

One of 29 students in the Class of 1953 admitted as midshipmen in the U.S. Naval Reserves under the regular NROTC program, Lt. Comdr. Conrad majored in aeronautical engineering while at Princeton. Other interests included playing intercluh hockey as a member of Colonial Club.

This was all overshadowed, however, by his devotion to flying. Lt. Comdr. Conrad's undergraduate advisor, David C. Hazen, remembers him as having "great enthusiasm, but his bent was more practical than theoretical. He had an all-consuming interest in flying."

Prof. Hazen was only one of many who noted this interest. Thomas E. Sweeney, a senior research aeronautical engineer at Forrestal, who worked with Lt. Comdr. Conrad, says that it was clear that he was planning a career in the Navy and flying.

Perhaps realizing this, himself, Lt. Comdr. Conrad recently conceded to an interviewer that "I spent much more time flying than I should have." As an organizer and later vice-president of the Flying Club he was up in its Cessna 140 virtually every weekend as well as some weekdays. Louis Hicks, a flight instructor and partowner of the Princeton Airport at the time, remembers that "he was a darn good pilot. I would trust him with anything." Last week, the U. S. had entrusted him with co-piloting its Gemini 5.

Lt. Comdr. Conrad has kept in touch with Princeton through visits with his friends in aeronautical engineering, occasional reunions, and reports of his activities to the "Princeton Alumni Weekly." A few years back, his class secretary noted in the "Weekly," that "Pete Conrad reports that flying jets is too much fun to even consider going to work, and so he re-upped." (Naval parlance for re-enlisting.)

He returned for his 10th reunion in 1963, and earlier this year flew up from Houston to speak at Princeton's National Alumni Conference in St. Louis. And if his loyalty to his alma mater is still in doubt, it has been reported that inside the capsule during the flight, at Pete Conrad's request, was a small orange and black Princeton banner.

for beginners, if students are to develop the poise, grace and alertness that thorough ballet training instills."

Mr. Guerard earned international fame as a leading dancer with Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo and was the first American to become a soloist with this company. Born in London, Margot Guerard is noted for her choreography, costume design and teaching ability. Their daughter, Penelope currently associated with the Ballet Theatre School in New York. She was an honors graduate from the Princeton High School Class 1964.

How Much Is Peace of Mind Worth? You Get It Free With A Sylvan Pool!

You can buy a cheaper pool than a Sylvan Pool — but you can't buy better. If a Sylvan Pool costs a little more, there must be a reason. There is. Built into each Sylvan Pool is peace of mind — a lifetime of peace of mind for you as a pool owner.

That's important, because a swimming pool is a purchase that a home-owner usually makes just once. And because the average homeowner has no working knowledge of swimming pool construction, he can be easily misled by false claims.

His best bet is to rely on the reputation of the pool builder, and it is a reputation for quality that has made Sylvan the largest pool builder east of the Rockies. In fact, a recent survey showed that approximately 80% of Sylvan's sales were due to customer recommendations.

Sylvan . . . The Pool For All Seasons

You should buy a pool for a lifetime, not for a summer. Sylvan Pools are built to withstand the severe winters in the Northeast; in fact, you can ice skate on any Sylvan Pool.

GIANTS' TROUBLES MOUNT In 24-13 Loss to Eagles

From the moment they lost the toss Saturday, and inexplicably chose to kick off into the wind, the New York Giants encountered one problem after another in their annual NFL exhibition game against the Philadelphia Eagles in Palmer Stadium. Two and a half humid hours later, they had:

● Lost their third straight, 34 to 13, to the Philadelphians over two seasons and their first in four Jaycee Classics here.

● Added to their deep-rooted quarterbacking problem by displaying a woefully inept defense.

● Been charged by a veteran lineman of the Eagles (understandably in anonymous fashion) with having played one of the worst games of which he had ever been a part in professional football.

While no one expected miracles from either of the rookie quarterbacks, Bob Timberlake and Henry Schichtle, it was rain, the porous, mismatched defense gram will be. A combination of an unorthodox 6-2-3, which brought a linebacker and a safetyman close to the line of scrimmage in an attempt to shut down on the rushing game, and tackling that was almost consistently sloppy helped the Eagles break the game open early. When they had posted a 24-3 lead by half-time, they had more points on the scoreboard than in any of their previous visits here.

Of the victors' four touchdowns, two made the Giants look particularly bad. One came early in the second period, end Glenn Glass completing a 65-yard pass play after shaking off Erich Barnes, the New Yorkers' veteran corner back as if he were the greenest of rookie defenders.

Late in the same period, Jack Concannon sent an Eagle the New Yorkers' veteran corner back as if he were the greenest of rookie defenders.

Late in the same period, Jack Concannon sent an Eagle ball carrier into the right side of the line on a fake handoff. After every member of the Giants defensive brigade had gone with the fake, Concannon spun around left end and into the end zone to the sound of loud laughter from both sides of Palmer Stadium. Few college teams in action here over the years have ever been so completely fooled by routine deception.

Concannon is the Eagles' third-string quarterback, behind King Hill, who did not play, and Norm Snead, who guided the victors' to a 7-3 lead in the opening quarter. Against the New Yorkers' unimpressive defense, Concannon—two years out of Boston College—had a dazzling day as he completed 8 of 16 passes for 153 yards, ran for 25 more and accounted for three touchdowns.

Three Quarterbacks Used. In the ceaseless search to find a successor to Charlie Conerly and Y. A. Tittle (the latter among Saturday's 41,000 spectators), the Giants opened with Timberlake at quarterback and followed with Schichtle before bringing on the one-year veteran, Gary Wood, in the final quarter. Aided by the ability of such promising backs as Ernie Wheelwright, Steve Thurlow, Joe Morrison and Ernie Koy, the Giants outrushed the Eagles, 172 to 140, but the passing was generally mediocre to miserable.

Timberlake and Schichtle each got the New Yorkers' within field goal range, defensive end Andy Stynchula booting a pair from 34 and 21 yards out as Yale's Chuck Mercein, half apparent to Don Chandler, sat out the action with a muscle pull. But neither of the two quarterbacks impressed, and the rarely-used Schichtle seems destined for the cut list well before the season begins.

Wood has a certain aura of field-generalship, and in the absence of any Giant trade for an established NFL quarterback this season, will become a major figure in Allie Sherman's building program. As the game drew to a close, Wood took the New Yorkers' 77 yards to a TD, a pass interference penalty erasing better than half the distance. The score came on a broken play. Wood dodging 22 yards behind impromptu interference when his receivers were fully covered.

The Cornell alumnus is a good open field runner but his passing still leaves much to be desired, even after four years of college and a start on his second season with the pros. Many of his aerials, thrown on the run, are too low, or altogether short of the receiver, against the Eagles, he hit on

Forecast for '65

Not only are the mathematical odds extremely high against picking the exact order of finish for an eight-team league, but the Ivies have a habit—like the National League in baseball—of rarely seeing a champion repeat.

A year ago, TOWN TOPICS underestimated Princeton, selecting the Tigers third, behind Dartmouth and Yale. Harvard, picked fourth, slipped into the runner-up spot when it defeated the Elis on the last day of the season. The estimate this year is that the Indians will make it to the top, with Harvard second again, Princeton following and Cornell rounding out first division.

The 1965 prediction:

1. Dartmouth
2. Harvard
3. Princeton
4. Cornell
5. Yale
6. Penn
7. Brown
8. Columbia

only four of 11 for a mere 40 yards.

Ivy League records show that in Wood's senior year at Cornell, although he led the league in total offense, he was no better than fourth in passing yardage and as far down as sixth in percentage of pass completions. It just doesn't seem likely that Sherman can make a topflight NFL quarterback out of an arm like that—even if he has a ten-year contract in which to try.

FOOTBALL OUTLOOK—IV

(This is the last in a series of four articles on Princeton's football prospects for 1965.)

Four - Team Race Looms. Domination of the 1965 Ivy League race by any team in the manner that Princeton raced past the field a year ago is extremely unlikely. The balance that typifies the Ancient Eight most of the time is likely to carry the battle down to the third Saturday in November once more, and it could well be that the outcome will not be known until results are in from the final contests between Dartmouth and Princeton, Harvard and Yale, and Cornell and Penn.

As has been the case more often than not, three of the perennial contenders — Dartmouth, Harvard and Princeton — figure to be in the thick of the chase again. Victory by any one of them would not be an upset, although the Tigers would set a precedent by becoming the first team to repeat outright.

Yale, playing under a new coaching regime for the second time in three years and harder hit by graduation than any member of the league, appears likely to slip out of first division. Cornell, which finished strong last fall and has an outside shot at the title, is the logical bet to replace the Elis among the top four.

There will be a scramble to avoid the cellar among the lower three — Penn, Brown and Columbia. Despite a new coach at Penn in the person of Bob Odell, who takes over from one-time Princetonian John Stiegman, the material at Philadelphia has been good enough over a period of the last three years so that the Quakers should move out of their familiar last-place surroundings. Manpower shortages appear likely to plague Brown and Columbia; the Lions are the choice here for the cellar on the theory that if they could not do better than seventh with Archie Roberts, they may well rest on the bottom in 1965.

Indians A-Building. A fine offensive backfield, headed by quarterback Mickey Beard and halfback Bob O'Brien, will make Dartmouth a season - long title threat. The Indians led the Ivies in offense last year and were nationally ranked in this department, but yielded 24 points to Yale, 33 to Cornell and 37 to Princeton.

Defense is again the question mark, as is development of a line which can open holes for the backs. Standouts include Tom Clarke, a 6-3, 215-lb. end who may be tops among the Ivies at this position; Bob MacLeod, a 6-4 pass receiver who is filling the shoes of his All-American father at Hanover; and fullback Mike Urbanic, a 205-lb. piledriver. The schedule is working for the Green: if it can get by Holy Cross, its second opponent, it may well go into the all-important fifth game against Harvard unbeaten.

Like Dartmouth, Harvard has numerous good backs — its probable starting quintet of John McCluskey, quarterback, Wally Grant and Bobby Leo, halfbacks, and Pat Conway, fullback, is second to none in the league. Defensively, the Crimson rates behind only Princeton: its line is particularly solid and only the secondary needs some patching.

The problem is in the offensive line, where four regulars graduated and center is a major source of concern. The sophomore crop is better than average — good football material has been flowing to Cambridge regularly for a number of years. The Crimson will be no worse than an even bet to win any single game on its schedule; over the years, it has been inability to avoid a wholly unexpected upset here and there that has kept it from ever winning an Ivy title outright.

Cornell a Comer. The loser five times last year, Cornell had a chance to win each one until the final minutes, battling the unbeaten Tigers to a 17-12 decision in the final game of the year. Unfortunately for Coach Tom Harp, five members of the offensive line — the big guys who made the Ithacans go — have graduated and the replacement problem looms large.

Bill Wilson, a good fullback, and quarterback Marty Spotnagle are the chief scoring threats. On defense, there is considerable strength, while the sophomores are headed by a tackle prospect who displaces some 300 pounds. As was the case last fall when the Tigers went to Hanover for the third game of the season, the winner of the Princeton-Cornell clash at Ithaca on October 9 will pass a major turning point in its season.

Yale has replaced the departed John Pont, now head coach at Indiana, with Carmen Cozza, who served on Pont's staff. But Cozza must replace 22 lettermen who helped take the Blue into its game with Princeton unbeaten in seven starts.

The Elis are thin where it hurts — at quarterback, as they have been ever since

KEY TO '65: Much of the outcome of the 1965 football season at Princeton depends on the ability of senior Bert Kerstetter to replace All-American Cosmo Iacavazzi at fullback.

LUBRICATION SCHAFER'S

HONORARY YANKEE BATBOY: Twelve year-old Roger L. Holmes Jr., Clarksville Road, Princeton Junction, has been named a winner of the Honorary Yankee Batboy contest. Roger and his father will be guests of the Yankees and Tidewater Oil Co. for a Yankee-Redsox game Sunday at Yankee Stadium, where Roger will receive a free uniform, autographed baseballs, meet some of the Yankee players, and be taken out to dinner with his father by a Tidewater representative. In the picture with Roger are (left to right) his father; Henry L. Schafer, owner of the Flying "A" service station, where Mr. Holmes filled out the contest entry blank, and Bob Tomms, Tidewater salesman.

their championship team of 1960, at fullback where Chuck Mercein held forth so ably, and in the interior line. Tone Grant, Watts Humphrey and Pete Doherty are the principal quarterback candidates and there a good halfback experience in Jim Howard and Jim Groninger. A 5-4 mark this year may be the best the Elias can do.

The Other Ivies. As previously indicated, a first division finish by Penn, Brown or Columbia would be a distinct surprise. Off manpower alone, Penn ought to top this trio, building its attack around halfbacks Bruce Molloy and Harry Eliman and a fine sophomore quarterback, Bill Creedon. The defense, however, has a long way to come — every Ivy opponent save Brown scored at least three touchdowns against the Quakers last year.

Brown and Columbia are both short of depth and of standout players. Quarterback Bob Hall and running back Bill Carr are the Bruins' chief hopes for points at Columbia, fullback Arne Jeaven will rank with the best in the league at this position and the Lions also have a few better-than-average linemen. Other than Brown, however, it is difficult to see them an even bet with any Ivy team this season.

Of Princeton's two non-league opponents, Colgate is apparently the stronger but Rutgers has enough to be difficult on opening day. A stubborn defense helped Colgate hold Princeton to a 9-0 decision last fall, and most of the players on that platoon are back. The Raiders were 7-2 last season, and have often made trouble for the Tigers in the middle of an Ivy race.

Rutgers, which lost only twice last fall after its narrow 10-7 defeat in Palmer Stadium, developed a quarterback who made it click but he was a senior. Now the Scarlet is looking again. Good ball-carrying strength and fair balance on both platoons will make the Raritan eleven a difficult foe on September 25.

Slow development on offense and the need to hurdle a major obstacle in its early meeting with Cornell are the principal problems Coach Dick Colman will face in the early-season grind. Inevitably, Harvard and Dartmouth will be extremely tough November foes.

A season that ends with a 6-3, or possibly 7-2 record, appears within reach. Anything better borders, at this writing, on the illogical in view of the extremely heavy graduation losses.

TITLE TO ACCELERATOR Beats ERC Two Straight. A spirited Accelerator team, which had battled RCA 1 down to the wire for the western division title just a week earlier, last week took two straight games from Engineering Research and walked off with the Business Softball League Championship and the Town Topics Trophy. In a playoff between the two second-place clubs, Educational Testing knocked off RCA 1, also winning two games in a row.

A four-run first inning and another three in the fourth gave Accelerator the first game, 7 to 4. Barry Hibbs collected three hits, Rick Nielson had two, Lee Leach, two, and winning pitcher Jack Bartow, two. Accelerator scored most of its runs on well placed singles, with Carl Schuler's home run being one of the few extra base hits.

ERC trailed throughout the game, scoring one in the first, two in the fourth and one in the sixth. Vince Graziano and Ross Morrone picked up two hits apiece, and Pete Williamson blasted a two-run triple, but all to no avail.

The final game saw Accelerator again get off to an early lead, this time with a gift of four unearned runs on three ERC errors. This was followed by two more in the second, another in the third, and a crushing six-run rally in the sixth, that put the game on ice. Ed Falcigia led the attack with three hits. John Rzucek, Pete Vislanki, and Leach all had two, and Don Clowar smashed a long home run just inside the left field line.

Don Machusak led ERC with two safeties, one a four-bagger, and Ed Paulsen had two. It was a tough loss for ERC which had wrapped up the eastern division crown two weeks before the season ended. Except for the first inning of the final game, the team played good solid baseball in both contests. Accelerator simply played better.

ETS built up an 8 to 1 lead over the first six innings, and then cut short an RCA rally in the last inning to win the first game of their playoff, 8 to 5. Paul Harmon delivered two hits, and scored two runs, and Norm Brown and Dick Schoenkopf both had two. RCA leadoff man Max Hopkins got on base four times on three hits and an error.

Schoenkopf's two-run homer in the top of the final inning gave ETS an 8-6 victory in the second contest. Winning pitcher Jim Jackson hurled scoreless ball for the last two innings after relieving starter Ken Sharples in the fifth when RCA took a 6 to 4 lead. Bruce Diefenbach had three hits for ETS, while Wally Reichert, John Hughes and Ed Lopatin had two hits each for RCA.

FOOTBALL SCHOOL SET

By Midget Football League. The Princeton Midget Football League will conduct a "football school" for boys 9 to 13, who attend school in Princeton, on Saturday mornings during the fall under the direction of qualified coaches. Initial plans to field fully equipped teams have been delayed for financial reasons, but league officials plan to continue fund raising and hope to put fit a minimum of four teams next year.

The school will teach conditioning, fundamentals, offensive and defensive plays and general strategy. Informal touch games will be held regularly. No contact work will be permitted unless equipment can be purchased prior to the end of the season.

There will be no weight restrictions, but each boy must provide proof of his birthdate (no boy reaching his 14th birthday before November 1 may join); obtain written permission from his parents; be cleared by his family doctor and pay a small fee for insurance. Additional registration dates have been set for Saturdays, September 4 and 11, in Marquand Park from 9 to noon, with the first session of school planned for the following Saturday. Boys who have already registered should return their completed forms on those dates.

Four head coaches, John and Peter Budd, Russell Perone, and Jack Sapoch, have been appointed. The Budd brothers played high school football in the Philadelphia area, and John Budd played four years in college. Pete Budd later served four years as head coach of a midget football league team near Philadelphia.

Perone got his football experience at Princeton High School and at college. Jack Sapoch played football in high school in Allentown, Pa., and later at Princeton, where he captained the Tiger's 1957 Ivy League champions.

CYANAMID WINS TITLE

In Girls' Softball League. Fourth-place American Cyanamid, which could only manage a 5-5 record during the regular season, won the postseason playoffs in the Princeton Research Girls' Softball League, with a 7 to 6 victory over Educational Testing. The game ended the league's inaugural season.

Helen Maddock got her fourth hit of the evening to drive the winning run across in the bottom of the final inning. Gail Pedrick had three hits, and winning pitcher Pat Woodring and Fran Randow, two apiece.

The final standings:

ETS	9	3	.750
ORC	7	4	.636
RCA	7	4	.636
Cyanamid*	5	5	.500
Cordialeties	3	7	.300

GRID PRACTICE STARTS

For PHS Squad. The Princeton High School football squad held its first full practice Wednesday when more than 150 candidates for the freshman, sophomore, junior varsity and varsity teams presented themselves to coach Dick Wood.

For Wood, starting his fourth year as head coach, there is the challenge of bettering last year's disappointing 3-5-1 record. Already time is short. Only three weeks and a few days separate the first day of practice and the team's opener here September 25 against Hamilton.

"I sure would like to improve oh last year," said Wood, "but, oh, that schedule! It's real tough. If we are going to have a winning season, we are really going to have to hustle."

Who will do the hustling? Starting next week, TOWN TOPICS will carry the first of three articles on the prospects and personnel of the PHS football team.

WILL LEAD 1965 LITTLE TIGERS: Tony Arcaro (left) 6-0, 215-lb tackle, and Rich Stewart, 6-0 180-lb. center, are co-captains of the 1965 Princeton High School team. A three-year veteran, the strongly rugged Arcaro doubles on occasion as a fullback. Stewart is a standout linebacker on defense.

CLERGY LISTED

For Summer Services. Changes in Princeton pulpits on this Sunday before Labor Day include:

The Rev. Charles G. Newbery of All Saints' Chapel of Trinity Parish, will conduct Holy Communion at 9 and Morning Prayer at 11.

Elder D.W. Edwards will conduct Rosedale Chapel's services at 10. His sermon topic will be, "The Important Place of Science in Religion."

Union services have ended for Princeton Presbyterians. The Rev. F. Hugh Lillston of St. Andrews Presbyterian will speak on "The Religion of the Dawn," at the 10 a.m. service Nursery care will be provided

At the Witherspoon Street Presbyterian Church, the Rev. Harold Thomas will give a sermon on, "Living the Christian Faith." Holy Communion is scheduled for 10 a.m.

The Rev. H. Dana Fearon III will conduct a 9:30 a.m. service at the Lawrenceville Presbyterian Church. Nursery care will be provided.

"Sweet Sweat" will be the topic of a sermon to be given by Dr. Leon Gibson of the Princeton Methodist Church at 10 a.m. The Rev. Ralph W. Quiere, Lutheran Chaplain, will conduct a 10 a.m. service in the University Chapel.

FRIENDS PLAY HOST

To 30 Teenagers. The Princeton Friends Meeting has played host to 30 teenagers here for an American Friends Service Committee weekend work camp, sponsored jointly by the Friends Meeting and Cranbury Housing Associates.

The group, both boys and girls, representing a balance of racial, social and religious backgrounds, was drawn mainly from the New York metropolitan area, but also included several from this area. Bringing sleeping bags, guitars, and other gear with them, the teenagers and their AFSC leaders slept and ate at the Friends First Day School building.

They spent a full eight-hour day at the Cranbury Housing Associates project, helping to remodel and renovate substandard housing. Most of the group attended the Princeton Friends Meeting on Sunday before returning home.

The AFSC work camp has two objectives: to assist in some socially productive cause, and to bring together a group of teenagers from different backgrounds for a weekend of working and living together, to promote a feeling of mutual respect and understanding. Teenagers participating from this area included Margaret Lechner of Princeton and Richard Fiore of Kendall Park.

$50 000 GOAL EXCEEDED

By First Baptist Church. First Baptist canvassers were able to report last week that the church has exceeded its recent fund goal of $50,000 by 10 percent, with more remaining to be reported. The money was sought to provide needed Christian educational facilities.

Members of the Building Fund Committee were Mrs. Grace Brown, chairman; John Grimm, co-chairman; Mrs. Frances Nelson, treasurer; Carl Briscoe, assistant treasurer; Miss Marji Scott, secretary; and J. Alfred Phox, assistant secretary. Mrs. Oneta Campbell, Mrs. Betty Preston and William Skipwith established the program.

Carl Brown Sr. served as canvass committee chairman. He was assisted by George Marshall, Mrs. Hazel Rivers and George Taylor, section leaders.

Canvassers were Carl Briscoe, Carl Brown Sr., Mrs. Ernestine Brown, Mrs. Grace Brown, Mrs. Owen Campbell, Mrs. Ralls Clark, Judson Carter, Benjamin Dupree, Mrs. Helen Hoagland, Mrs. Lurella Holland, George Holmes, Mrs. Albany Jordan, Theodore Kennedy, George Marshall and Charles Melvin.

Also, James Phox, Mrs. Bettye Preston, Mrs. Hazel Rivers, Haskee Saxton, William Skipwith, Mrs. Lillian Smith, Mrs. Carol Taylor, Mrs. Lillie Taylor, George Taylor, Theodore Williams, and Mrs. Daisy Woolridge. Highest individual canvasser was George Marshall.

At a victory celebration, the Rev. Edward Smith handed the solicitors. He described their accomplishment as "the greatest success in the church's history."

The drive was conducted during June and early July.

10 reasons why you should buy a home in Wynnewood at Cranbury:

- Wynnewood at Cranbury is a custom-crafted community of thirty lovely homes, set against a backdrop of fine old trees.
- Cranbury is one of New Jersey's few remaining "small-town" towns . . . a real village atmosphere!
- Cranbury is 6 miles from Princeton, 50 minutes from mid-town Manhattan.
- All lots are a MINIMUM of one full acre.
- Fine school system —including all-new Regional High School.
- Elegance of design is overwhelming!
- Solidity of construction is paramount!
- Every home has the most modern of kitchens with the new Caloric "75" double-oven range and dishwater included.
- All utilities: curbs, walks, etc. are in and paid for!
- Gracious covered portico and full 2-car garages.

There are really hundreds of reasons why you should own a Wynnewood at Cranbury home! See for yourself.

WANTED:

A FULL-TIME BIRD WATCHER

To look after the loveable breed that will show you all kinds of love and affection and will give you untold hours of pleasure. Black body with a disappearing white top makes her a thing of beauty that all your friends and neighbors will admire.

As you open her beak, you will immediately know that she is equipped with all the standard equipment, plus many extras.

Her allred vinyl interior with those new modern design bucket seats and pleated curved rear seats makes her a pleasure to spend your leisure time with. All automatic windows and full automatic disappearing top, power steering, power brakes, automatic transmission and equal lock differential make her easy to handle and in temperatures of your choice with the big factory-installed air-conditioning.

Now, I am brand new and this morning I heard my boss say to George Peck (he's one of our salesmen), "George, open the cage door and let this bird fly and let someone else look after her." Well, I'm a big girl and should be able to take care of myself with 4,000-mile oil change, 36,000-mile grease job and a full 24-months or 24,000-mile factory guarantee, but I really need someone to watch over and guide me. So, if you have always been a Bird watcher and wanted to be a Bird owner, I'll let you in on a secret George told me: "Bird, you gotta go." So why don't you call George Peck at 921-6400 at Nassau-Conover Motor Co. and let him give you the Bird.

CABINET WORK, FURNITURE, tables, shelving. Designed and made to order, or made to your plans. Roger Maren, 921-0972. (If no answer during the day, phone after 6 p.m.) 6-4-tf

FOR GRACIOUS LIVING

PRINCETON VIEW ESTATES, a new community of fine homes, invites you to inspect the houses prepared under construction. This is the most desirable site one can imagine — located only a few minutes drive from Princeton, the gently rolling countryside providing a morvelous view, and bordering on one of the loveliest country clubs in central New Jersey.

IN ADDITION to the homes presently under construction there are plots available for those wishing to select their own individual designs. We have many beautiful styles and plans for your inspection, or you may submit your own plan to us. The same custom details and fine construction for which Princeton View has become so well known are incorporated in all our homes.

DIRECTIONS: Take route 206 north from Princeton to the traffic light at the intersection of Route 518. Turn left, go 1¼ miles to Pine Brae Drive and turn left into Princeton View Estates.

Representative on the premises all day Saturday and Sunday, and can be reached daily from 8 AM to 6 PM at 609-448-4300.

GORGEOUS . . . on a commanding bluff, yet screened from view by the dense foliage of magnificent woods, when you are stretched at ease in the patio it seems as if you were on a wooded hill in some vacation spot. Actually, however, this beautiful home is in the Township, and downtown Princeton is only 3 minutes away. This fine property is designed for people who like to enjoy life in great style — the house sprawls informally around its large terrace, and the swimming pool, yet its brick front is conservative and dignified and very, very aloof. Indoors, the rooms are spacious and airy, and thoughtful attention has been devoted to all the architectural niceties which make living in a perfect house so infinitely enjoyable. 5 bedrooms, 4 baths. If you are determined to have a beautiful home in Princeton, where you can live in luxury, play without ever being aware that there are neighbors, and entertain like a star —well, the quest will very likely end as soon as you glimpse this gorgeous place surrounded by its own towering forest.

(Sole Agent) $97,500

SIX BEDROOMS . . . here is a very interesting home. Sited on a beautiful lot in Edgerstoune, with woods in the background, and only a short hike ride from Johnson Park School, it looks like a traditional shingled Colonial. Indoors, however, an ingenious 4-level floor plan provides 6 bedrooms, 2 baths and a powder room. The living room has a fireplace, there is a separate dining room, a modern kitchen, and a large recreation room. For outdoor entertaining, you will appreciate the large brick terrace, and the privacy afforded by the wide lawn and its surrounding trees.

(Sole Agent) $59,500

OUR BEST BUY . . . this fine old Colonial home — part of it is a pre-Revolutionary farm house —is the result of many hours of patient and tender labor on the part of the owners, who have restored and modernized it in excellent taste. Living room with fireplace, dining room with fireplace, family room with powder room nearby, and a very-up-to-date kitchen with a vast old "cooking fireplace" in the breakfasting area. Two bedrooms also have fireplaces, and the old pine floors have been sanded and waxed until they gleam. In addition, there are 3 more bedrooms and 2 baths. Acre of land. Red barn and shed.

(Sole Agent) $29,500

STUART HILL . . . nestled among beautiful shade trees on a 2-acre plot in Stuart Hill, which we believe is destined to become Western 'Section's most desirable residential area, this farm-style Colonial has 6 bedrooms, 4 baths. The 16 x 26 living room has a fireplace, the large paneled family room has a built-in bar, and there is a spacious, all-electric kitchen, a laundry, a mud-room, a big 2-car garage and maid's room and bath on the first floor. Second floor: 5 bedrooms, 3 baths and many large closets. Across the road is Stuart Country Day School, and a short distance away are the new Princeton Day Schools.

(Sole Agent) $89,500

Many fine homes in Princeton and vicinity in every price range.

Back View — Princeton Borough

Now being offered for the first time is this authentically-reproduced colonial built in the late 30's and situated on a fabulous acre in the middle of Princeton within walking distance of the University.

Landscaping is superb from the delightful brick terrace and rose garden to the flower bordered walks and beds abounding with bulbs, healthy pachysandra and ajuga. Century old pines border the sweeping back lawn in a garden club setting that is hard to resist. What was a labor of love to create is now practically maintenance free.

The interior is just as charming with its nooks, niches and crannies. The fireplaced living room is a picture with its wide board, pegged floors, smoky blue green paneling on its lower walls, padded window seats, niches for those bibelots and the blessing of the many windows. There is a door to the rear terrace that reveals the sweeping view. The study nook mirror also reflects all the beauties of the outdoors while milady keeps her correspondence up to date and dinner table guests are in the same enviable position.

A beamed "country room" with bookcases is centrally heated but boasts a pot bellied stove for romantic remembrances; it is so truly hideaway it couldn't be found unless you know its location. The guest room and bath, too, is accessible only by separate stairway.

Three bedrooms and 2½ baths complete the main portion of the house, with an informal laundry-playroom for the young fry. Garage for a large car (radar controlled door) and one for a smaller sporty one as well as a partial basement.

Wherever you may wish to make your home you owe it to yourself as a prudent planner and wise investor to consider a Deck House. Many times honored for excellence of design, and commended for use of quality materials and superior workmanship, Deck House introduces to you a fresh, exciting new experience in contemporary living—presenting houses that are thoughtfully planned, beautifully functional, soundly constructed and tastefully related to their sites. A Deck House, in one of a variety of plans to suit your particular requirements, may be built for you in any location, on land of your own choice, for a suprisingly modest square footage cost. Or, if you prefer, you may choose from a limited number of attractive sites, available through Deck House, in the Northeast New England communities of Sudbury, Lincoln or Carlisle, Massachusetts. We cordially invite you to visit one of our Model Homes at Hillwinds, off Goodman Hill Rd., in Sudbury, Massachusetts; or we will be pleased to send you descriptive material, illustrating its unique features and optional plans.

By appointment. Telephone (617) 235-1080 or send for completely informative, illustrated brochure to Deck House, Inc., Dept. 48, Box 306, Wayland, Massachusetts.
